- Splayed M with truncated middle strokes
- Tail of g has distinctive hook
- Sensual curves in lowercase

ETYMOLOGY

Released by Berthold 1904
Revived by Intertype in 1934
Re-revived by Ed Benguiat & Victor Caruso in 1973

FAMILY

Four weights with corresponding italics – called “Kursiv.”

FONT FACTS

First released during the height of the German Jugendstil movement. Neither Berthold’s or Intertype’s version of the design was popular. ITC Korinna Kursiv is an original typeface by Ed Benguiat that replaced the simple “obliqued” Roman of earlier versions.
